

OUR STUDENTS OUT AND ABOUT

Secondary News

Our secondary classes have been exploring the local environment as part of the Human Society in its Environment (HSIE) studies. There have been many special places that students have identified as their particular favourite.

Joel enjoyed looking at the homes in the suburbs, whilst Julian thought the autumn trees were beautiful. Alicia liked the Camden library, especially the part that was the old Fire Station.

Secondary H like to listen for the sounds of the engines roaring out from Oran Park. The thrill of watching the stunt cars practice fascinates Will, Josh and Kyle.

Secondary A were precise when identifying the community signs and some sensible discussions followed in relation to safety issues and the importance of our community helpers.

All classes have been very excited about meeting our local fire brigade members who were brilliant in welcoming every student to explore the equipment at their station. The students were able to ask questions as well as have the opportunity for some really fun hands-on activities.

The HSIE class groupings are presently in the process of planning their next environmental field trip. McDonalds seems to be a favourite, but we will see!

Do you think Macca's is ready for a group tour?
